Software Development Services

Risk-Free 1 Month Trial Period

Why us?

01

Accountability and professionalism

When we promise, we deliver. And overdeliver. Every time. Because if we don't - we don't charge you. Contrary to popular opinion, providing accurate estimates in software development IS possible.

02

No bureaucracy

We are a dynamic, fast-paced, and flexible company. Our mentality and company culture allow us to deliver effective and solid solutions much faster (and thus cheaper) than the slow and clumsy behemoths of the industry. You point, we crush it. No need to overcomplicate it.

03

Experienced, but still hungry

We've built tens of web and mobile apps (including a few web 3.0 apps). We use the latest technologies and never stop learning. Our processes matured into predictable and reusable systems. But we always remember what got us here in the first place. One of our core principles: stay hungry, stay curious.

04

Flexible pricing

Our teams are located worldwide: Eastern Europe, Latin America, and the United States. We combine talent from different parts of the world to craft the most personalized offers possible. Pick one: 100% US-based teams, affordable offshore teams, or our favorite mixed teams - the combination of the best from both worlds.

05

Risk-Free Trial

We are confident in our service. And as with every good service, we provide one month risk-free trial period for you to test how we roll. You only pay for the first month if you decide to stay with us long-term.

06

100% Satisfaction History

We never had a disappointed client. And we are one of the top agencies on Upwork, with more than 30000 hours done. Our testimonials are available on our website, and we will be proud to connect you with our previous and current clients for feedback.

06

Reliable and long-term partner

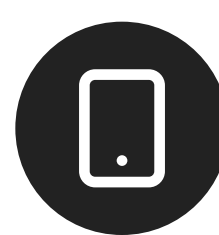

We will earn your trust, and we will never let you go. Our top-level management will be working with you directly, focusing all our attention on your success. Building long-term relationships and the success of our clients is our main priority.
